An Illinois Not-For-Profit Corporation | Draft for board adoption

Before adopting: fill in every [bracket], confirm the board and officer lists, and have a nonprofit attorney review. Illinois generally requires a president, secretary, and treasurer and does not allow one person to be both president and secretary.

Article I. Name and Offices

1.1 Name. The name of the corporation is Building 4 Our Future Foundation (the "Foundation").

1.2 Principal office. The principal office is located at [street address], Chicago, Illinois [ZIP]. The board may change it by resolution.

1.3 Registered agent. The Foundation will maintain a registered agent and registered office in Illinois as required by law.

Article II. Purpose

2.1 Mission. Building 4 Our Future Foundation empowers underserved Chicago communities through financial literacy, entrepreneur development, and youth mentorship, including athletics, so that children and families gain the knowledge, character, and opportunity to build lasting wealth and a stronger future.

2.2 Tax-exempt purposes. The Foundation is organized exclusively for charitable and educational purposes within the meaning of Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code, or the corresponding section of any future federal tax code. Within those purposes, the Foundation will provide financial literacy education, support entrepreneur development, operate youth mentorship and athletic programs, and conduct other lawful activities that further these purposes.

2.3 Limits. No part of the net earnings of the Foundation shall benefit any private individual, except that the Foundation may pay reasonable compensation for services and make payments in furtherance of its purposes. No substantial part of its activities shall be carrying on propaganda or otherwise attempting to influence legislation, and it shall not take part in any political campaign for or against any candidate for public office.

Article III. Membership

3.1 No members. The Foundation has no voting members. The board of directors holds all rights that the Illinois General Not For Profit Corporation Act gives to members.

3.2 Supporters. The board may recognize donors, volunteers, advisors, or partners by any title. These supporters have no vote and no ownership interest.

Article IV. Board of Directors

4.1 Power. The board manages the affairs of the Foundation and sets its policies, programs, and budget.

4.2 Number. The board has at least three and at most nine directors. The board sets the exact number by resolution. The initial directors are listed in the organizational minutes.

4.3 Election and term. Directors are elected by a majority of the directors then in office. Each term is [two] years, and directors may serve successive terms. A director serves until a successor is elected or the director resigns or is removed.

4.4 Removal and resignation. The board may remove a director for cause by a two-thirds vote of the other directors. A director may resign by written notice to the president or secretary.

4.5 Vacancies. The board may fill any vacancy by majority vote of the remaining directors.

4.6 Founder. Ray Robinson, as founder, serves as a voting director for the term set at the organizational meeting. This role carries no added vote or veto.

4.7 Duties. Each director acts in good faith, in the best interest of the Foundation, and with the care an ordinarily prudent person would use. Directors protect the Foundation's tax-exempt status and keep its assets for its charitable purposes.

4.8 No related-party dominance. No more than [49%] of the directors may be related by blood or marriage to each other or be employees of the Foundation.

Article V. Meetings

5.1 Regular meetings. The board meets at least [quarterly], at a time and place the board sets.

5.2 Special meetings. The president or any two directors may call a special meeting with at least [five] days' notice by email, text, phone, or mail.

5.3 Annual meeting. The first regular meeting of each year is the annual meeting, where the board elects officers and reviews finances and the conflict of interest disclosures.

5.4 Quorum and voting. A majority of directors in office is a quorum. Acts of a majority of directors present at a meeting with a quorum are acts of the board, unless these bylaws or law require more.

5.5 Remote participation. Directors may attend by phone or video if everyone can hear each other.

5.6 Action without a meeting. The board may act without a meeting if every director consents in writing, including by email.

5.7 Minutes. The secretary keeps written minutes of all board meetings and actions.

Article VI. Officers

6.1 Officers. The officers are a president, a secretary, and a treasurer. The board may create other offices. One person may hold more than one office, except that the same person may not be both president and secretary.

6.2 Election and term. The board elects officers at the annual meeting. Each serves one year or until a successor is elected. The board may remove an officer at any time by majority vote.

6.3 President. Leads the Foundation, presides at board meetings, and carries out board decisions.

6.4 Secretary. Keeps minutes, the bylaws, and the corporate records, gives notices, and files the annual report with the Illinois Secretary of State.

6.5 Treasurer. Oversees funds and financial records, reports on finances at each regular meeting, and ensures that the Form 990 and other tax filings are completed on time.

Article VII. Committees

7.1 Committees. The board may create committees of two or more directors. A committee may not amend the bylaws, fill board vacancies, or approve anything that law reserves for the full board.

7.2 Advisory groups. The board may create advisory councils of non-directors, for example for the sports program or the financial literacy curriculum. They advise only and have no vote.

Article VIII. Conflicts of Interest and Compensation

8.1 Policy. The board will adopt a separate written conflict of interest policy and every director, officer, and key employee will sign it each year.

8.2 Disclosure and recusal. A person with a financial or personal interest in a matter must disclose it, leave the discussion, and not vote on it. The minutes record the disclosure and the vote.

8.3 Related-party deals. The Foundation may contract with a director, officer, or their relatives or businesses only if the board finds the deal fair and in the Foundation's interest, after comparing it with other options, and approves it by a majority of the disinterested directors.

8.4 Compensation. Directors serve without pay as directors. The board may approve reasonable pay to any person for services actually performed, based on comparable pay at similar organizations. The person being paid, and any relative, may not vote on it. The board records the basis for its decision in the minutes.

8.5 Business entities. Contracts between the Foundation and Block Wall Street LLC, Sun School of Satoshi, or any other organization related to a director or officer are related-party transactions under this article.

Article IX. Finances and Records

9.1 Fiscal year. The fiscal year runs from [January 1] to [December 31].

9.2 Bank accounts. All funds are deposited in accounts in the Foundation's name, opened by board resolution. The board sets who may sign checks and approve payments, and requires [two] signatures or approvals for any single payment over $[amount].

9.3 Budget and reports. The board approves an annual budget. The treasurer gives financial reports at each regular meeting.

9.4 Donations. The Foundation will give written acknowledgments for donations as the IRS requires. It will not solicit donations in Illinois until it completes any required charitable registration with the Illinois Attorney General.

9.5 Filings. The Foundation will file its annual Form 990 series return, the Illinois annual report, and any other required filings on time.

9.6 Records. The Foundation keeps its articles, bylaws, minutes, tax filings, and financial records at its principal office, and adopts a document retention policy and a whistleblower policy.

Article X. Indemnification

The Foundation will indemnify its directors and officers against expenses and liabilities from their service, to the fullest extent Illinois law allows, except for willful misconduct, bad-faith acts, or improper personal benefit. The Foundation may buy insurance for this purpose.

Article XI. Amendments

The board may amend these bylaws by a two-thirds vote of directors in office, if each director received the proposed text at least [seven] days before the vote. No amendment may weaken the Foundation's tax-exempt purposes or Article XII.

Article XII. Dissolution

Upon dissolution, the Foundation's remaining assets, after paying its liabilities, shall be distributed to one or more organizations exempt under Section 501(c)(3), or to a federal, state, or local government for a public purpose. No assets shall go to any director, officer, or private person.
